

REGISTRATION

REGISTRATION FEE

The registration fee for each participant includes: participation to the conference; Welcome party; coffee breaks; Social dinner; conference trip; conference documentation and book of abstracts.

-Registration fee before August 31, 2016 - € 450

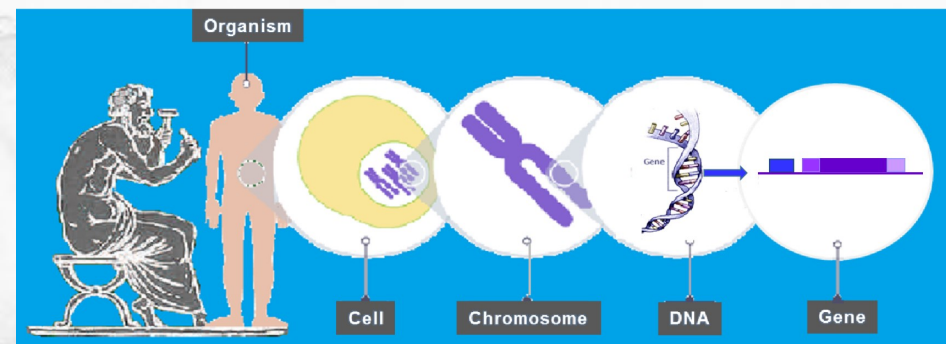

-Registration fee after August 31, 2016 - € 550

-Students* registration fee before August 31, 2016 - € 200

-Students* registration fee after August 31, 2016 - € 300

-Registration for 1 day - € 150

for undergraduated and PhD students. Please, provide a letter from your tutor.*

BIOMATERIALS FOR HEALTHCARE

Biomaterials for Tissue and Genetic Engineering and Role of Nanotechnology

1st biennial conference BioMaH

Aula Convegni, CNR sede

Piazzale Aldo Moro, 7 Rome, Italy

October 17-20, 2016

Abstract deadline: June 30, 2016

MAIN TOPICS, SYMPOSIA, ROUNDTABLES and

BIOMATERIALS SOCIETIES FORUM

"SMART" BIOMATERIALS FOR TISSUE REGENERATION

- Organic-inorganic hybrid materials
- Tissue engineered vascular grafts
- Biomimetic scaffolds for hard & soft tissues
- Functionalized scaffolds, molecular mechanisms and cues
- Scaffold surface modification
- Nanostructured systems
- Multifunctional magnetic nanoparticles
- Guided tissue regeneration

CELL BASED REGENERATIVE STRATEGIES

- Gene-activating materials and cell-material interactions
- Cell models for tissue engineering, genes and biological factors
- Gene-therapy to modify cellular function
- Nanomedicine
- Biophotonics and imaging technologies for regenerative medicine
- Raman diagnostics for clinics
- In vivo models. Translating regenerative biomaterials into clinical practice

SYMPOSIUM "Preservation, regeneration, re-programming, care and health"

P.M. Biava, M. Miceli, E.L. Iorio, L. Speciani
(Eurodream-CELLFOOD, La Spezia)

CREATING INNOVATION and TECHNOLOGY TRANSFER

Roundtable "Science, industry and politics"

A prize for the best oral young researcher's presentation is forecasted (up to 35 years old)

CALL FOR PAPERS

MODALITY FOR ABSTRACT(S) SUBMISSION

Abstract(s) must be typed in English language. Each abstract must include: title of the presentation (oral or poster, with character set: Time New Roman Bold 16 pt, centered), author's names (character set: Time New Roman Bold 12 pt, centered), affiliations with address, state, phone, fax and e-mail address (character set: Time New Roman Bold 12 pt, left justified). The content of the text must produce sufficient information about the target of the study, methods utilised, results obtained and conclusions. Preference for either oral or poster presentation should be indicated. The authors whose abstract will be accepted will receive informative instructions for full-paper publication in the book of the proceedings after the Congress.
